Privacy Policy

Online safety is a common concern with parents (and with our family), so we decided not to intentionally collect any data or integrate with services that might cause concern. Read the full privacy policy below for details.

Tracking and Ads

No such services are used in this app.

Social Integration

No such services are enabled in this app.

Location Services

No such services are used in this app.

Internet Services

No external internet services are made available.

Purchases or Billing

No such services are available in this app.

Collection and Use

No data is collected by this app.

Sharing Your Information

No data is collected by this app.

Security

No data is collected by this app.

Third Party Services

This app was built using the Corona SDK and launchpad analytic collection was disabled. The configuration was carefully reviewed to ensure that no services are being used that cause data to be collected. In fact, on android systems, this app does not request any permission other than what is required to enable license validation.

Notification of Changes

In the unlikely event that we need to update or amend this privacy policy the update will be included in this help file and published as an app update.
